EXTENDED SERVICES

I'm really not looking forward to half-term. The kids get so bored. I wish there was something to do that didn't cost too much!

Do you know if there are any cookery clubs after school in the area?

Now that Nathan is in school I have got so much time on my hands. I need to find something interesting to do. It would be lovely if we could find something to do together too...

I've managed to get myself a job! I can't wait to start earning some money. I really need to sort out childcare quickly, but I have got no idea how to go about it!

I am really struggling to manage Sarah's temper tantrums since we have moved house. It is really getting me down.

'Reece told me a couple of weeks ago that he wanted us to try and be fitter and healthier than last night he came home from school and said he was being teased about his weight. I really want to help him but I'm not sure how...'
